Pickles' Boy; Alison Work—The Duchess; Bruce Brown — Prince Certainpersonio.

Tickets will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. The children have been rehearsing all summer as members of the children's drama class, directed by Gail Dowling, as part of the Carmel Unified School District's recreation program.

Minutes Prove That A Word Is A Word

The word "advise" in the minutes of the July 14 arts commission meeting caused some disagreement yesterday afternoon. Chairman Barbara Norberg insisted, "I don't think I said 'advise'." The word was used in discussion of "a liaison" between the arts and planning commissions at the prior meeting. Mrs. Norberg wanted the word struck out.

The commission's secretary, Hugh Bayless, stated that the minutes were "a record of what occurred" and he was supported by the city attorney who was at the July 14 meeting.

"I cannot sign the minutes if a different word is used," he declared.

"I don't accept the minutes as they are," Mrs. Norberg countered.

Mr. Bayless said "I would be happy to resign."

"It seems to me a statement in the minutes of this meeting would put the matter on record," Commissioner Fred Rider commented.

"I know you didn't say what you meant," Commissioner Barbara West told Mrs. Norberg.

The matter was dropped after Mr. Rider suggested asking the secretary to note that the paragraph containing the word "advise" did not carry the meaning intended by the commission.

The word was used, according to Mr. Bayless, when Mrs. Norberg proposed arts commissions should attend planning commission meetings. Yesterday she said this (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Annexation Step Gains Approval, City Acts Next

Another step forward in the annexation of subdivisions south of Carmel to the city was taken last night when Monterey County's local agencies formation commission unanimously approved the annexation after considering the physical factors, projected population, needs, government overlapping and interrelation of Mission Fields, also the Walker and Mission tracts, in relation to Carmel.

Editor's Column

Carmel citizens speak with pride of the city's heritage. Famous persons have lived here at periods of their lives. Some became permanent residents and aided community enterprises.

But of these latter persons, few have left more tangible evidence of their love for Carmel than Charles Sumner Greene, ranked ahead of Frank Lloyd Wright as one of the founders of the American school of modern architecture, and so honored by a national architectural organization before his death some years ago.

On November 11, 1921, members of the Carmel American Legion decided a memorial to those who served their country in World War I should be erected in the city.

The intersection of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos Street was chosen as the location for this monument which would replace the old town watering trough.

Charles Sumner Greene donated his services as designer of the memorial. Funds to erect it were raised by a vaudeville show produced by Carmel residents, community dances, a campaign conducted by the Pine Cone, donations from organizations, also dozens of private citizens. By November, 1922, the necessary $1,000 had been raised.

The next annexation step will be up to the Carmel city council which is empowered to approve or disapprove circulation of annexation petitions. If approved, these petitions must be returned to the city within 50 days and to be valid must contain the signatures of one-quarter of the registered voters in the areas requesting annexation before the council can call a special election and hold a public hearing.

If however, protests are filed by the owners of one-half of the value of the area to be annexed, the proceedings will be terminated.

Last night, Robert C. Gilmour and Tom Brown of Mission Fields and Francis P. Lloyd of the Mission Tract discussed factors favoring the annexation. Donald H. Smith, an attorney representing residents in the areas proposed for annexation; Dan Daly of the Walker Tract; John S. Coates of Carmel Woods, chairman of the Suburban Area Council; and Myron Etienne, attorney for River Inn Developers, spoke against annexation.

All speakers had been told they must adhere to factors which the local agency formation commission was empowered by the legislature to consider. Warwick Downing of the county counsel's office told commissioners protests and requests for exclusion of property should not "be given real consid- (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Klenke Committee Asks Carmel Citizens To Keep Sunset As Norberg Wants

Some 300 reprints of Councilman Gunnar Norberg's March 26, 1965, report to the city council, "A do-it-ourselves Cultural-Community Center for the future," were mailed to Carmel citizens last week with no identification as to the sender. Investigation reveals that these mailings were undertaken by the Klenke Committee for Carmel.

Included in the circular is a reprint of the Pine Cone's explanation of why the Norberg report was printed in the July 1 issue of the paper following authorization by the city council.

The only part of the circular not previously appearing in the Pine Cone is the following paragraph.

"If you want to support Councilman Norberg's effort to keep the valuable Sunset School property in the hands of the taxpayers and voters of the city of Carmel, let the other councilmen know. They are Mayor Herbert Blanks, James Buffington, Stephen Grant, and Eben Whittlesey. Sign a petition right away."

The petitions were not prepared, at the time of the mailing last week, and no arrangements had been made to place petitions where citizens could sign them.

One thousand reprints were ordered by the Klenke Committee named after Jeanie Morgan Klenke who has taken an active part in preserving "old Carmel" for many years. She helped form the Carmel Citizens Committee, an organization dedicated to saving the residential character of the community as defined in the preamble to the city's zoning ordinance.

Disturbed by Mayor Herbert Blanks' "white paper" which was printed in the Pine Cone, in full, on June 24, on authorization of the city council, and which advocated a modern cultural-community center built on the Sunset School site, preferably by a non-profit organization, in order to preserve the city's prosperity, citizens who favored the Norberg report printed (Continued on Page Twelve)

"Good heavens, what will people think!"
"A baby boy should not wear pink!"
We used to hear our mothers shriek:
"Don't fight, boys, turn the other cheek!"

Before poor father stepped outdoors
If only just to do his chores,
He had to shave and wear his shoes,
Because our neighbors, "spread the news."

And this to me was never clear:
We lived in constant dread, for fear
Mix Grundy spied a speck of dust.
It seemed that certain things we "must."

Our pioneers weren't made that way,
They said: "To heck what people say."

The saddest words of pen and ink
Is saying, "What will people think!"

There are all sorts of ways of keeping California to ourselves, just read below, if you doubt me.

Californians are urged by the California Depopulation Commission to join in celebrating Florida Appreciation Month throughout August. In a statement, CAL-DEPOP directors said that the month will be celebrated annually from now on.

"Few Californians appreciate the enormous debt we owe to the great and beautiful State of Florida," the statement says. "We hope to make Florida Appreciation Month a vivid reminder of the fact that, if it weren't for Florida, California would be much more densely populated than it is."

"One of the most effective ways of celebrating this month is to send financial aid to the fine organizations which promote Florida as a place in which to make a permanent home. The more of this growth promotion money we can get out of California and into Florida the better off California will be."

The above statement, entitled "Progress Smogress" was sent to the Pine Cone by CALDEPOP commissioners who are Mr. and Mrs. David C. Camp, Ross; Mr.

and Mrs. H. Lincoln Chadbourne, La Jolla; Mr. and Mrs. W. D.
Devlin, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. John Forde, Danville; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Lundquist, Fremont; and Mr. and Mrs. L. M.
Wade, Aptos.

They say "Please don't send money—we can't be trusted." Instead they ask that all donations be sent to "your favorite Florida chamber of commerce."

And while I'm on the subject of California, did you know that the state's motto is "Eureka?"
I'm indebted to the San Francisco County Fair Flower Show for this reminder. According to the flower show people, the translation of the California motto is "I have found it." And that is something for the CALDEPOP commission to think about it.

And as for our state song, it is
"I Love You, California." Do you know it?

I can't seem to get away from California this week. Recently someone sent me a clipping from a New York newspaper which must remain nameless because it wasn't on the piece of paper I got.
However, a note said the paragraphs printed below were written by Paul Hightower for his Senior Forum column entitled
"Retire In California?"

"(Question) We are thinking of retiring to Carmel, Calif. Can you tell us if it is a satisfying retirement area?"

—Mrs. R.M.W.

"(Answer) Why are you thinking of Carmel? If it is because some friends moved there, you probably won't find it very satisfying. If it is because Carmel sounds romantic and wonderful to the people who know you now in the home town, you probably won't like it. If it is because you read about the town in some magazine and decided it was glamorous, don't bother.

"Carmel is all right. It's beautiful. The climate there is what they call delightful. The image of the place what people elsewhere think of it is better than good.
And in art and literary circles, almost anywhere in the U.S., and in the smart set in New York and Baltimore, you don't have to explain Carmel. People know about it.

"There are a couple of tourists around, including fat women in slacks and the hamburger eaters.
There are honky-tonk shops, and especially in summer, a sort of Pike's Peak atmosphere.

"Some distinguished people have settled in and around Carmel, particularly writers and artists. They are secluded, as a rule. You would not come to know them, or move in their circle, unless somebody significant leads you into their midst . . . and unless they find you interesting.

"People thinking of moving to a glamour spot such as Carmel are slightly suspect. Their thinking usually is based on something besides finding a good self-contained retirement life . . . on things like prestige, image, the impression made on the people back home, snobbery, and social advantage. There is little satisfaction in these things."

How do you like that for a definition of the Carmel way of life?

Oh well! Some people get away from Carmel and California, such as Dorothy von Meier, the planning commission's poet laureate—and chairman when she isn't galivanting around the world. Here is her latest travel report.

Here I am in fabled Singapore Raffles Hotel and Palace of Johore.

Typhoons and monsoons and tropic heat

And nothing to do but drink and eat

Singapore Slings and Planter's
Punch

And frangipani and three hours for lunch.

I bought some silk and a golden sari

I can't spend my all, so I won't tarry.

I saw Corregidor and Manila
Bay

Now through Malacca and to Bombay.

Anyone going around Carmel Point Sunday night may have fancied they saw the idol of some native cult on the beach. In a way, the creation was just that. There are Carmelites who dip in the ocean every day . . . brrrrrr . . .
and it was one of them, Stanley Oakes, who upended the monolith, then drew a face on the granite using a piece of charcoal from an old picnic fire. Nearby children joined in the fun, and a few adults too. In the end the idol, named "Weirdie," sported long seaweed hair, a jaunty paper plate hat, and a necklace of iceplant.

Then Mr. Oakes did obeisance to the idol. He took his third dip of the afternoon. Brrrrrr again!

Public Lecture Series On Mexico Offered

A lecture series on Mexico is being presented by faculty members of the Spanish Department at the Defense Language Institute on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. in the New Monterey Neighborhood Center, Jeanne Link, activities supervisor of the Monterey Recreation Department, announces.

Next week, Professor Carlos Mirenda will discuss "Retirement Potentials and Economic Potentials of Mexico." On August 25, William Palmer will talk on "Mexico, A Study in Contrasts."

The first Wednesday evening in September a film program will be presented and on September 8 a Mexican Fiesta and dinner will be given by the recreation department. Mrs. Robert Franco, whose husband discussed "Panorama of Mexico" on August 4, will plan the dinner menu. The food will be served by members of the Spanish classes at the Neighborhood Center.

Anyone interested is invited to the free lectures. A charge of $1.50 per person will be made for the dinner. Reservations may be made by telephoning Jeanne Link at 372-8121, extension 85.

KIWANIS PROGRAM

At a luncheon meeting last Thursday, Carmel Kiwanis Club members heard area 4-H Club youths describe their activities, particularly with respect to their participation in the Monterey County Fair, and were introduced to this year's County Fair Theme Girls.

Bill Ingram, one of the junior 4-H boys, spoke on lamb raising, and an older club member, Tom Crow, outlined in detail the 4-H Club awards.

Carolyn Elstob Is Symphony's Public Relations Executive

At a recent committee meeting of directors of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra Association, President James M. R. Glaser announced the appointment of Mrs. Frederick (Carolyn) Elstob as public relations executive for the coming year.

"With 1965 the orchestra's 20th year on the Peninsula, we are looking forward to an era of expansion. Carolyn Elstob brings a wealth of experience to her challenging job of keeping the public informed, not only about our concert season but also on the activities of the Youth Orchestra and the Monterey Peninsula and Salinas Symphony Guilds," Mr. Glaser said.

Mrs. Elstob received her initial training in journalism on the Worcester (Mass.) Telegram. As women's editor of the Boston Herald, she became interested in public service organizations and served as public relations director for million-dollar fund raising drives for the Boston Y.W.C.A. and Children's Hospital, also Harvard Medical School.

With their two small daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Elstob became citizens of Carmel in 1947. In this area she has held editorial positions on the Pine Cone and the now defunct Monterey Peninsula Spectator. For five years, during the life of Dene Denny, Mrs. Elstob wrote publicity releases for the Carmel Bach Festival.

Bill Ellis Chosen To Attend FBI Academy

Tomorrow, Captain William Ellis of the Carmel Police Department will fly to Washington, D.C., where, on Monday morning, he will start three months of training in the national academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

A letter from J. Edgar Hoover, announcing Captain Ellis' appointment, was read at last week's city council meeting and Mayor Herbert Blanks congratulated Captain Ellis on the honor he had earned.

When Captain Ellis returns to Carmel he will be the third member of the police department trained at the academy. Chief Clyde Klaumann graduated in 1946 and Officer Walter Boyle completed his FBI academy training before joining the Carmel police force.

There will be 70 men in Captain Ellis' class at the FBI school. The trainees are men picked from all

Arts Commission Presents Beyer Trio At Forest Theater

The Carmel Arts Commission, jointly with Musician's Union, local 161, will present the second of two free chamber music concerts on Sunday at the Forest Theater.

The Beyer Trio will play "Sonata for Violin and Piano" by Handel; the Beethoven "Serenade for String Trio, Opus 8 in D Major"; and the Mendelssohn "Quartet for Piano and String Trio, Opus 2 in F Minor."

Wade Parks will be the featured pianist.

Concerts begin at 2 p.m.

AUGUST 17 DEADLINE FOR SYMPHONY TICKET RENEWALS

Due to the daily volume of orders for tickets for the 1965-66 Monterey County Symphony Orchestra concert season, Colonel C. H. Du Val (USA ret.), the symphony association's business manager, announces that requests from past subscribers for specific seat locations must be sent in before August 17. On that date all seats not already reserved will go on sale. The symphony association office is located in Sunset Center on San Carlos street. The telephone number is 624-4125.

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET WEDNESDAY

State Senator Donald L. Grunsky of Watsonville, chairman of the Senate education committee, will address the bi-monthly luncheon meeting of the Monterey division of the California Retired Teachers' Association on Wednesday at the Grange Hall at Aromas.

Appointed first and second vice presidents, respectively, are Mrs. Alice Crouch of Watsonville and Miss M. Augusta DeForest of Carmel, who will fill out the terms of the late Mrs. Wesley Plaskett and the late Miss Grace Beebe. A third vice president, Mrs. Louis V. Manning of Monterey, has been added to the slate of officers.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by telephoning Mrs. James A. Walker at 424-6566 no later than tomorrow.

over the United States, its possessions, and foreign countries. Each is intensively investigated by the FBI before being selected and only two classes are trained each year.

Carmel is unusually fortunate in that, with the completion of Captain Ellis' course, there will be three FBI graduates on the city's small police force of 14 men.

Shown above, about to cut their wedding cake, are Richard Marten Tetley and his bride, the former Michele Mason of Portland, Oregon, who were united in marriage by the Reverend Roger Dieudonne at Carmel Mission Basilica on Saturday. For the mid-afternoon ceremony, the church was decorated with large standards of summer flowers and lighted tapers.

Michele was given in marriage by her father, Ralph S. Mason of Portland. Her organza gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline, long sleeves and a flared skirt. Lace trimmed the neckline and skirt of her gown as well as the net mantilla she wore on her hair, and she carried a bouquet of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis. Mrs. Dennis R. Escola (Jane Tetley), the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor. She was dressed in a short white ottoman gown made with a fitted bodice and an A-line skirt. A Dior bow of matching material trimmed with veiling was clasped to her hair, and she carried an arrangement of gardenias and stephanotis. Judy Cuneo of Burlingame, maid of honor, was dressed identically.

William Doolittle of Carmel and San Francisco, a fraternity brother of Richard's, served as best man. Seating the guests were Bruce Mason, the bride's brother, John Armentrout of Portland and Leslie Magoon of Eugene, Oregon.

For the reception held at the Carmel home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Marten Tetley, the rooms were decorated with massed bouquets of magnolia leaves combined with pink and white hydrangeas. The same flowers were in the patio where guests were served champagne and wedding cake.

Mrs. Tetley greeted her guests wearing an Oleg Cassini suit of a soft pink shade. With it she wore a matching silk organza turban and a corsage of white butterfly orchids.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Ralph

Congratulations In Order

Miss L. Lucile Turner celebrated her 90th birthday last Friday in Portland, Oregon, where she was attending a family reunion. The pioneer Oregon family, to which she belongs, dating back to 1848 in that state, deeded several of its properties to the city of Portland in earlier days. Miss Turner, a resident of Carmel for many years, remains an active member of the community in such organizations as the American Association of University Women and in the Church of the Wayfarer.

Cover Picture

The latest issue of the Sierra Club Bulletin has a photograph by Cole Weston on the cover. It depicts Big Sur headlands with surf crashing along the rocky shore. This print is included in "Not Man Apart," the new Sierra Club book which was published to rouse support for the preservation of the coast south of Carmel.

Well Earned Foreign Travel

For four years at Carmel High School, during vacations and the first two years of college which they recently completed, Pat Lewis and Shelley Jones worked, saved and dreamed of going to Europe together. On Friday their dream became a reality when they sailed from New York aboard the student ship M/S Aurelia bound for Le Havre and a year of travel, work and study in Europe.

Pat, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Conrad Lewis of Carmel, hopes to become an archeologist. She attended the University of California at Berkeley for a year, and last year was a student at Monterey Peninsula College.

Her companion is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jones of Carmel. Shelley had her first year of college at MPC and recently finished another at Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash-home at Ann Arbor, Michigan, the bride was wearing a pale yellow suit with a Navy blouse and accessories.

Visitors From Stockton

Superior Court Judge George Buck has returned to Stockton after a month's holiday in Carmel but Mrs. Buck and her son, Tom, are remaining here a little longer. Judge Buck has been a Carmel visitor each year since childhood when his family maintained a summer home here. Mrs. Buck is the niece of Mrs. Carmel Martin of Monterey.

Carol Is Mrs. Fitzsimmons

Second Lieutenant (USMCR) Robert James Fitzsimmons and his bride, the former Carol Hunter Stewart, are at home in Tustin, California following their honeymoon.

The couple's marriage took place on July 21 at Saint John's Episcopal Church with the Reverend John T. Ledger officiating. Victoria Stewart was her sister's maid of honor and two other sisters, Janet and Pamela Stewart, were bridesmaids.

The bridegroom's best man was Jon Baker of Monterey. Michael Glenn and William Cook of Monterey served as ushers.

Carol, daughter of Commander (USN Ret.) Hunter W. Stewart of Carmel, attended Monterey Peninsula College for two years before enrolling at Fresno State College.

Her new husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fitzsimmons of Monterey. He, also, attended Monterey Peninsula College for two years. Now stationed at the Marine Corps Air Station at El Toro, Lieutenant Fitzsimmons completed flight training at Pensacola, Florida, and advanced training at Kingsville, Texas.

Julie Oakes Here

Miss Julie Oakes arrived for a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Oakes, with a brand new master's degree tucked in her luggage. In charge of physical education at a St. Louis, Missouri, school, Julie has been doing graduate work toward her degree at the University of California at Los Angeles during her summer vacations.

Enjoyed Ballet Celeste

Carmel and Carmel Valley ballet enthusiasts turned out in large numbers last evening for the performance by the San Francisco Ballet Celeste of the romantic three-act ballet, "Coppelia," at Salinas High School auditorium.

Carmel hostesses who invited guests to attend the event were Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, Mrs. Walter Jennings, Mrs. C. T. Hill and Mrs. R. W. Scheffler.

Miss Alice Seckels arranged for a group of 15 Carmel Valley Manor residents to see the performance sponsored by the Salinas Guild of the Monterey County Symphony Association as a benefit for the symphony.

Award For Civilians

Lieutenant Colonel Charles F. Tisdale, deputy commandant of the Defense Language Institute, recently presented awards to 32 civilian employees at the Presidio of Monterey.

Among them were Mrs. Gloria M. Brinsmead and Mrs. Wilhelmine D. Higby of Carmel Valley, certificates of commendation; Alex Alexander of Carmel and Gerda St. Galy of Carmel Valley, Department of Army certificates for 10 years' federal service and 10 years' employment at DLI; John L. Jinishian of Carmel, service award certificate for 10 years' employment at DLI.

Officers' Wives' Club

To welcome aboard the new student officers' wives at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, the Officers' Wives' Club will present a program next Thursday at 8 p.m. in King Hall. Following this, refreshments will be served in the Ball Room, Herrmann Hall, where members will also sign up for this year's activities. Electronic and communications engineering wives will be the hostess group.

Reservations, due Monday, may be phoned to Mrs. Duane C. Beck (372-9032). Cancellations must be made with Mrs. Beck not later than Wednesday.

A Happy Houseful

The Pebble Beach home of Dr. and Mrs. A. Carol McKenney will be filled with welcome visitors this month. Mrs. McKenney's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Hines (Gray Burnham), arrived from Lake Oswego, Oregon, on Friday, bringing with them their children, Ragan, Linden and baby Michael. Another daughter and her family are expected on Sunday. They are Lieutenant (USN) and Mrs. Richard Holt (Robin Burnham) and their daughter, Stanley, of San Diego, who are soon to make their home at Newport, Rhode Island, where Lieutenant Holt has been transferred.

Missing at the gathering of the clan will be Mrs. David Kuhn (Wendy Burnham) and her husband, who are living in France for a year.

Expect A Guest

Dick and Nancy Lofton are looking forward to the arrival on Sunday of one of Dick's sisters, Mrs. Maurice Matteson of Beaufort, South Carolina, who will be their guest for three weeks.

Mrs. Matteson and her late husband, both musicians, made a hobby of traveling about collecting ballads and folk songs and often presented informal concerts for their friends, sometimes accompanying themselves on old instruments which Mr. Matteson collected. Some years ago, during one of their Carmel visits, the Mattesons were heard in a delightful recital at the Carmel Art Association Gallery.

The visitor's home in Beaufort, incidentally, is a beautiful old Southern colonial mansion, built in the 18th century.

Former Carmelite Visited

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lauer and their four children returned to Los Angeles Monday after a week's vacation here at the home of her aunt, Gladys Klaiber. Mrs. Lauer, who grew up in Carmel as Jeanie van Dam, was active in local theatre groups before her marriage and now does television commercials. Her last role on the Peninsula was that of the lead in "Gypsy" at the Wharf Theatre Opera House.

Visitors At The Elstobs

This summer, the children of Mrs. Michael Sherman, the former Lucy Elstob, are repeating their mother's childhood experience of "living" on the Carmel beach. Lucy and her youngsters, Laura and Karl, are here from St. Louis, Missouri, for the summer as the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Elstob.

Mr. Elstob, who went to England in May, has been visiting there with his sister and his novelist son, Peter Elstob. He is now on his return voyage aboard the Mauretania and is expected home Saturday.

In New Orleans

Mrs. Dudley Nix and her daughter, Joanne, left Tuesday by plane for New Orleans where they will visit Mr. Nix's sister, Mrs. Sam Presley, for three weeks.

Saturday evening, the eighth season of the Carmel National Ballet Summer School, ended with a private production of the "Hansel and Gretel" ballet at the Nix Studio.

Every Saturday night . . . outstanding cuisine from 7 to 10 p.m., gay music from 7 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. For reservations, telephone MA 4-3811 Gate fee refunded with all meals in dining room.

Carmel Woman's Club Outlines Next Year's Programs, Projects

In anticipation of the beginning of its 40th year, opening with the first general meeting in October, the board of directors of the Carmel Woman's Club is already at work on programs and projects for the club's 350 members. Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary and Mrs. Rhea Diveley, with the assistance of Dr. Albert Rappaport of the Town Hall of San Francisco, have secured a group of interesting and stimulating speakers for the year ahead, beginning with the return engagement of John Morley, news analyst.

Also scheduled to appear are Madame Genevieve Antoine Dari-aux, director of the Paris fashion house of Nina Ricci; Jack Aranson and Mary Rose McMaster in Shakespeare's "All the World's a Stage"; Willem I. Oltmans, journalist; Abdul Ghafur Sheikh, "Into Forbidden Mecca"; Joe A. Callaway, "Broadway Play by Play"; John Strong, a motion picture, "Jamaica"; Aly Wassil, "A Philosopher of the Orient and the Occident."

Since its inception in 1925, the Carmel Woman's Club has maintained its objectives of "mutual help, intellectual advancement, social enjoyment and united efforts for the welfare of the community." It is a non-profit, non-political and non-sectarian organization, whose membership now includes residents of other areas of the Peninsula.

During the depression years, the various sections raised funds for Carmel's unemployed and, with their help, beautified sections of the city by planting shrubs block by block. In 1932, they donated the sundial for the Harrison Memorial Library garden and supplied plants and top soil for landscaping. They also maintained a "Rainy Day Cupboard" to help the jobless. Later, during the war years, the club purchased War Bonds and coordinated their efforts with those of the Red Cross. Among other beneficial projects, the club, last year, presented a fashion show, donating the proceeds to the Carmel Youth Center and the Girl Scouts. Presently in the planning stage are several new projects for the coming season.

Blanche Tolmie

Miss Blanche Tolmie, for more than 45 years a moving spirit in Carmel's cultural activity, died last Thursday in Walnut Creek. She had recently entered a nursing home there following a period of failing health.

Miss Tolmie was a native of Buffalo, New York.

A singing career was indicated by the early development of her voice into a dramatic soprano. She studied voice and music in Vienna, Berlin and London, where she became acquainted with Dame Sybil Thorndike. The English actress introduced her to the Ben Greet Shakespearean Company, of which Miss Tolmie was a member, later in the United States, for three years. Through her association with this company, Miss Tolmie supplemented her music training with dramatic experience.

Miss Tolmie pursued her multifaceted career in San Francisco for a time. Frequent visits to Carmel convinced her that it was becoming one of the cultural centers of the coast, and shortly before 1920 she chose to make the village her permanent home.

Her first stage appearance here was at the Forest Theater under the direction of Garnet Holme. Once initiated, she was a vigorous and constant worker in the Forest Theater — acting, directing and helping to make it the performing arts center it was. A great respecter of children's ideas, Miss Tolmie encouraged many a hidden talent in her direction of children's plays.

Her name was inseparable with the artistic, dramatic and musical activities of the community. Puppets of Carmel owed much of its success to Miss Tolmie, and she was a member of the Carmel Arts Commission and the Carmel Crafts Guild, of which she was also an officer.

The Carmel Foundation was immeasurably enriched during the eight years she arranged and supervised the weekly programs of Town House, where she was always a gracious hostess and generous friend of the members.

Private funeral services for Miss Tolmie have been held in Alameda. Friends wishing to make memorial contributions may do so to the Carmel Foundation, Box 3424, Carmel.

CHS Class Of 1945 Came From Far And Near For Reunion

Twenty years after graduation from Carmel High School, the Class of 1945 held a reunion Saturday evening at the Casa Munras. Mrs. Mariquita Brey, advisor to the class which was the first to go from eighth through twelfth grades at Carmel High, came from her home in Rancho Mirage near Palm Springs to attend the party.

Some of the class came from as far away as Seattle, also northern and southern California, to meet classmates who still live in this area. In all, including spouses, there were 33 persons at the affair.

Class of 1945 members at the reunion were Jean (Stanford) Schecchi, Joanne (Thorn) Lawrence; June (Walker) Mauzey, Joan (Janda) Belya, Andrea (Del Monte) Thatcher, Nan (Street) Fowler, Bonnie (Olson) Holbrook, William Rissell, Alex Olmsted, Dennis Gorman, Leo Juri, Milton Thompson, James Heisinger, William L. Askew Jr., Stanley Ewig, Sally (Setchell) Mason, Bill Wisheart and Alan Green.

SEA OTTER PICTURES AT PACIFIC GROVE MUSEUM

A small collection of sea otter photographs is on display at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History. Some of the photographs were taken by Fish and Wildlife Service Biologist Karl Kenyon at Amchitka Island, Alaska. Two of the pictures are of "Bessie Lou," the baby sea otter which spent a night in the curator's bath tub.

The northern and southern sea otters are now recognized as being identical with no differences existing between them. For a time it was thought that the "southern" otter never came ashore unless sick or dying; however, contrary observations have been made by competent observers.

The exhibition will continue through the month of August.

Cole Porter's 'Can-Can' Opens Tonight At White Oaks Theatre

The third in the summer series of musicals at Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre is Cole Porter's "Can-Can." It opens tonight and will play every Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evening through September 5 at 8:30 p.m. Members of the resident company will bring to life the bawdy, humorous life of Montmartre.

The production is directed by Tom Gruenewald, with choreography by Gale Peterson, musical direction by Chris Nance, sets and lights by Joan Larkey, and costumes by Jim Swain. The score includes such familiar hits as "C'est Magnifique," "I Am In Love," "It's All Right With Me," "I Love Paris," and the rousing "Can-Can."

Following "Can-Can," White Oaks Theatre will present Benjamin Britten's opera, "The Rape of Lucretia" for four performances only. Featured in the cast will be two members of the resident company plus other young artists assembled by Chris Nance, who is not only the Theatre's musical director, but assistant director of opera at Louisiana State University.

For children, the Fantasy Players groups of White Oaks Theatre is presenting an unusual adventure entitled "Off With His Honorable Head." Curtain time is 2:30 p.m. every Saturday afternoon through September 4.

Art News

The American Federation of Arts Gallery on Lincoln Street is showing the work of four painters who brought renown to this area by gaining international recognition. They are the late Paul Dougherty, Armin Hansen, William Ritschel and Francis McComas.

Mrs. Helen Ehman has been appointed coordinator for the local Federation of Arts chapter, Leonard Heller, AFA president, announces. She will be in charge of volunteer activity, coordination of fund raising events, memberships, publicity and development.

Hal Blake's oil painting, "Golden Pieta" won the popularity vote of more than 1,000 visitors who cast ballots at the recently concluded ninth annual religious art exhibit at the Church of the Wayfarer, Kenneth J. Walker, general chairman, announces.

Barbara West's "Madonna" won a strong second place.

Other entries which scored heavily in the popularity vote included John Dykes' "Sanctuary," Liesel Wurzmans' "And Bowed His Head," Vera Jackson's leaded stained glass screen, "The Three Wise Men," and "Joseph's Coat of Many Colors," by Alice Robertson.

A panel of three judges has been named for the 11th annual Northern California Juried Art Show which will be held in Chico, October 23 and 24.

Heading the three-man jury will be Rafael Canogar, Spanish abstract painter, who is currently conducting a special workshop at Mills College.

Joining Mr. Canogar on the panel will be Roland C. Petersen, associate professor of art at the University of California, Davis campus; and Ann Dignan, art instructor at Chico State College.

This year's show, according to Claudia Steel, general chairman, will carry awards in the excess of $1,000. The show will be in the Bidwell Memorial Presbyterian Church, its buildings and grounds. It is being sponsored by the Chico Creative Arts Center.

The show is open to anyone. There will be four divisions—oils, watercolors, prints and mixed media. Deadline for entries (three to an artist) is October 4. Judging will take place October 10. Further information can be obtained by writing: Art Show, Post Office Box 103, Chico, California.

A one-man show of small, abstract oil paintings, called "poem pictures" by the artist, Beatrice Wheelock are being shown in a book shop in Carmel Valley Village through August.

Gallery of the Seeker is the name Gilbert A. Schoenbrod has given to the premises at 230 Asilomar Boulevard in Pacific Grove where he is showing monthly changing exhibits of his work.

"A number of important changes influencing the category and classification of entries in this year's fine arts exhibit at the Monterey County Fair will make for a more exciting and competitive event" comments the fine arts division chairman, Alex Gonzales.

Principal changes affecting this year's showing are the elimination of specific professional and amateur classes. All exhibitors will be included under one general classification and the division of painting, sculpture and graphics into two sections—modern and traditional.

Each section will be housed and shown in a separate building and judged by a separate juror, qualified in his particular field of art.

Appraising and making the selection for traditional work will be the nationally regarded artist and resident of the San Francisco area, Frank Ashley. Known for his involved figure compositions, Mr. Ashley, was a protege of artist Reginald Marsh.

The modern work will be judged by James McCray who, for many years, has headed the art department of the University of California at Berkeley. A condition of judging this year was that out-of-area jurors only be appointed.

Another innovation is the inclusion of graphics in the fine arts section.

The number of exhibits per artist will be limited to one in each category with a painting size limitation of 50 by 80 inches. Completed entry forms must be returned to the Fairgrounds by August 16.

TOWN HOUSE PROGRAM

Kathy Farr and Peggy Cole, June graduates of Carmel High School, will present a program of folk singing with guitar accompaniment at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Kathy, whose father is John Farr, musical director for the high school, and Peggy are taking time off from their summer jobs to appear at the Town House. Both young ladies will enter Monterey Community Hospital has its first administrative assistant. He is John R. Williams, 26, who received his master's degree in hospital administration from the school of public health, University of California at Berkeley, last year.

He will be the chief assistant to Thomas E. Tonkin, who earned UC's first master's degree in hospital administration 14 years ago.

A first lieutenant in the Medical Service Corps of the U.S. Air Force Reserve, Mr. Williams earned his bachelor of science degree with honors at UC in 1962.

He has just completed a one-year administrative residency at the Virginia Mason Hospital and Clinic in Seattle, Washington. Prior to that he served an administrative internship at UC Medical Center, San Francisco, and as administrative assistant at the Vallejo General Hospital.

Larry Horan Tells Of Peace Corps Work He Directs In Costa Rica

Laurence P. Horan, Peace Corps director in Costa Rica and a partner in the Carmel law firm of Farr, Horan, Wilsdon and Lloyd, tells about the corps' work in the Central American republic where he is stationed in the June-July issue of Peace Corps Volunteer.

(State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel, who is on a trip to Central and South America, will visit his law partner in Costa Rica, also see his son, Sam, who is a Peace Corps volunteer in Colombia.)

Mr. Horan tells that the first Peace Corps volunteers, who arrived in Costa Rica in January, 1963, were assigned as science or English teachers at colegios (secondary schools).

The second group arrived eight months later. One-third of these was assigned to teaching in colegios, the other two-thirds received assignments in rural-community development in outlying villages or cities.

During 1964, two small groups of volunteers became chemistry, English, mathematics and physical education instructors at the University of Costa Rica or went to work in the university's library, office of scholarship information or language laboratory.

In January 1965, another group of volunteers arrived in Costa Rica and 80 percent of them were assigned to community development in rural towns and villages which had requested a volunteer.

Mr. Horan says, "The results that the Peace Corps volunteers have produced throughout Costa Rica have not only encouraged us to expand the program by increasing the number of volunteers, but to balance what is now largely a community development program with the present companion teaching programs at the university and the colegios, and in the future in the normal, vocational and agricultural schools.

"The friendliness of the Costa Rican people and the spirit of co-operation which they have shown in working with the volunteers convinces me that the Peace Corps need not worry at the present about a numerical ceiling, or saturation point, for the program in Costa Rica."

Following his duty with the Peace Corps, Mr. Horan, his wife and four children will return to live here. Their present home is in San Jose, the capital city of Costa Rica.

Klenke Committee Asks Citizens To Keep Sunset As Norberg Wants

in the Pine Cone the next week, have paid for and are mailing the reprints.

Councilman Norberg told the Pine Cone that he thinks the mailings are "a laudable effort." He also stated that he was asked if he considered the mail campaign an acceptable thing to do and approved this activity but emphasized that the "initiative was not mine."

"There are a great many citizens who are perturbed about the tax rate going up 22 cents instead of going down 19 cents as I thought it should; that the Citizens Committee appears to be inactive; and that what to do or not to do with Sunset School is unresolved," he added.

Mr. Norberg stressed that, if he is to become "the center of the focus" of Klenke Committee efforts to carry out the proposals in his council report, then he would "get into with both feet" any endeavors of "all those in favor" of the recommendations in his report.

These recommendations are to ask Robert Stanton, of Carmel Valley, an architect long familiar with the Carmel area, to present his ideas on the initiation of Mr. Norberg's thesis for development of the Sunset School property into a cultural-community center as "a project of many years duration"; also the employment of a "center architect at a nominal stipend" with work space allotted at the school.

He also mentioned in his report that "onerous or inhibiting tax burdens" could be eliminated by seeking donations from "individual donors" for the Sunset development.

Mr. Stanton, this week, told the Pine Cone he is very much interested in the development of a cultural center for Carmel, but does not support Mr. Norberg's idea of "one which could well take many months, and even years, just in the gestating and preliminary sketching." Mr. Stanton advocates action before cultural activities are attracted elsewhere. He emphasizes he is not in any way interested in becoming a "center architect" but would be willing, as a public service, to aid efforts to obtain outstanding architectural talent to design any cultural-community center.

A spokesman for the Klenke Committee, who does not wish to be identified for personal reasons, says the group "spontaneously" became interested in furthering the thesis in Mr. Norberg's report.

Mrs. Klenke told the Pine Cone she let her name be used because she is "very much in favor of preserving old Carmel" and helped prepare the mailing list for the circulars but is unable to take an active part in the mailing work. No other names of the Klenke Committee could be elicited through the Pine Cone's inquiries.

The resignation of Wallace Doolittle from the Sunset Commission also appears to have spurred Klenke Committee activity. Mr.

Doolittle's resignation has not been accepted by Mayor Blanks who hopes that the former Sunset commissioner will reconsider his action. He advocated a slow approach to any Sunset development and retention of the present facilities on the school site, including the baseball field.

Walter Tuthill

Private funeral services were held August 5 at the Mission Mortuary in Monterey for Walter Edward Tuthill, whose death the previous day was attributed to a heart attack while he was at Los Padres Dam.

Mr. Tuthill, a Carmel resident for the past 39 years, was born in Peru, Indiana, on March 30, 1897.

The former owner, until his retirement a few years ago, of Walter's Rug Cleaners in Pacific Grove, he was a Marine Corps veteran of World Wars I and II. He is survived by his wife, Jettie A. Tuthill.

Dr. William J. Sweeting of the First Baptist Church of Monterey officiated at rites for Mr. Tuthill, and burial took place in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

YORK HEADMASTER TO PREACH

The Reverend Benton Wood, new headmaster of The York School for Boys at Laguna Seca Ranch, will be guest preacher Sunday in All Saints' Episcopal Church at both the 9:15 Eucharist and the 11 a.m. morning prayer services.

Father Wood, former assistant at Saint Andrew's School in Boca Raton, Florida, recently arrived on the Peninsula with his wife and children.

Reading lessons and taking part in the services will be Lewis Fenton, chairman of the board of trustees, and members of the student body and staff, including Captain James S. Neill (USNR) and the Reverend Samuel Smith.

SANTA CRUZ FUCHSIA SHOW

Fuchsias of the present and past will be featured in the "Fantasy of Fuchsias" to be presented as a joint project of the Santa Cruz Branch of the American Fuchsia Society and the Santa Cruz Garden Club on August 17 at the Live Oak Community Methodist Church, 2091 17th Avenue, Santa Cruz, starting at 2 p.m. Refreshments will be served from 6-10 p.m. and fuchsia plants will be door prizes.

'An Evening's Musicale' Lacking In Cohesiveness

Mike Noon is a very amusing young man with a sharp wit and appealing manner. Jerry Winters is obviously an excellent musician and pianist, and Susan Scott has a fine voice. Percussionist Don Clausen provides a subtle, enriching background for the two latter entertainers. In spite of all this, "An Evening's Musicale" at the Sunset auditorium Saturday night lacked cohesiveness and, worse, the material presented was often trite, tired and tasteless, with what seemed, sometimes, interminable medleys made up of the worst of old Broadway musicals. That the majority of the audience did not agree with this reviewer's opinion was obvious from the thundering ovation at the close of the performance.

The volume issuing from the sound system was nerve-shattering.

However, the Penoyer-Fischer production, the first of a series to be presented, did have its good points. Jerry Winters' arrangement of a medley from "West Side Story" gave this talented pianist an optimum chance to display his versatility. Miss Scott's voice was at its best in solo numbers, particularly those with a lyrical quality.

Of the trio of Saturday night's performers, Mike Noon (whose real name is Neun) was the unquestionable star with his musical satires and preposterously funny original asides. In a fine parody on folksingers, whom he really admires, he related his attempt to compose a folksong, explaining that to do so one really needs to have suffered. Mike added that since he had never been on a chain gang, or even in jail, the worst thing that ever happened to him was the basis for his song, "I Applied for a Job with the Pacific Northwest Telephone Company and Didn't Get It Blues." He poked at political and social institutions with such original songs as "The Old Birch (John) Tree" and "Let's Not Fight for Joan Baez High" fight song.

A refreshing interruption in the program was the surprise appearance of Dewie Dutton and Kit Snow of Carmel. The pure voice of Miss Dutton, who accompanies herself on guitar, continues to increase in quality and control with each concert. Her diction is impeccable, and she is a near-master in her interpretation of Mexican folk tunes. Kit Snow provided fine, intricate guitar background for the singer.

During the rousing "Finale," two more unexpected performers joined in, improvising on clarinet and trumpet. They were Jerry's father, Melvin Voelker, and his brother, Ronald Voelker.

Perhaps these entertainers are more enjoyable in a smaller, more intimate setting. They and their producers might be wise to re-examine their choice of material.

and it certainly is to be hoped that they will not repeat the long, pointless "chipmunk-voice" gimmick dialogue heard in the darkened auditorium before the curtain rose on the second half of the program. J.V.

Community Church To Hold Service At Big Sur Park

On Sunday, the congregation of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula will hold its regular worship service beneath the redwoods of Big Sur State Park. No Sunday morning worship service or seminar will be conducted in the regular meeting place this one week, but the Carmel River School facilities will again be used on August 22. A family camp-out is planned in the main group camp area of the park, beginning on Saturday afternoon. Members and friends of the church are invited to this as well as the worship service and picnic dinner on Sunday. Details may be had by calling the church office, 624-6622.

Youth of the church participating in the worship service are Dick Thomas, Marilyn Lane, Ken Wade and Barbara Pearson. The sermon will be given by a lay member of the church, Ariel L. Lane. Others who have participated in planning the weekend activities are Tina Vasvary, Carolyn Thompson, Chuska Pearson Jr., Howard Timbers and the Reverend Burkert Cree.

Van Yates Second In National Races

Carmel High School senior Van Yates skipped his boat to take second place in the Mercury National Championships held at Ventura from August 2 through August 6. In a fleet of 28, representing the top sailors from Pacific Coast and inland yacht clubs, Van and his crew, Jimmy Sweeney of Carmel, came within 1/4 of a point of bringing home the first place trophy.

Eleven-year-old Evan Wythe, another representative of Stillwater Yacht Club in the nationals, was awarded the Anchor Dragster trophy.

Doug Baird of Carmel was crew on the third-place winner, skippered by Holden Sanford of Fresno.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS MEET

The program for tonight's meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Young Republicans will be devoted to an analysis of the forthcoming water bonds issue.

Two educational films relating to the principles involved will be shown and discussion will follow.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be at 8 p.m., in the Estrada Adobe, Tyler Street, Monterey.

Here From Menlo Park

Owen Baylis has been the guest of his aunt and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. S.F.B. Morse III, in Carmel Valley this week. He arrived in time to help one of his cousins, Peter Lloyd, celebrate his second birthday. Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Lloyd.

Editor's Column . . .

(Continued from Page One) Greene had supervised the work of a stone mason, John McMichael, who hand cut and chiseled each stone. Mr. Greene also sculptured and gave to the city the white stone bowl with a design of breaking waves which was placed at the center of the memorial fountain arch.

Today, the monument still stands. It is no longer a fountain but is still tangible evidence of the creativity of one of this country's great architects who chose to retire and live in Carmel. It is still tangible evidence of community effort to honor veterans. It is still tangible evidence of Carmel's proud heritage.

But, alas, progress has caused Ocean Avenue thoroughfare to be widened. Automobiles have grown wider. Nowadays only inches separate cars moving south on Ocean from the monument. One of them has hit the base of the memorial and dislodged and chipped stones which remain unsecured. Next these original stones may well disappear.

There are other evidences of neglect and vandalism.

Surely the city, or some civic organization, can discover funds to have the city's World War monument expertly restored. Or is pride in Carmel's heritage just idle talk?

After yesterday's arts commission meeting, I am convinced that this may well be the case. Proposed at the meeting was the hanging of a bell in the memorial arch so it "would not look so naked."

Also proposed was the placing of a plaque on the monument listing the names of famous persons who have lived in Carmel. Arts commissioners seemed totally unaware of a plaque, stating that the monument honors World War I veterans, was placed on the arch by the Carmel American Legion Post 512 last year.

And as for Mr. Greene's arch being made less naked, that is desecration of the simplicity of design for which Mr. Greene became famous . . . desecration of the heritage of Carmel. M.L.

Root Trial Reset

City Attorney William B. Burleigh, yesterday, dismissed the original complaint against Mrs. Josephine Root who is being prosecuted by the city on the grounds that the number of cats she has in her home violates the municipal ordinance limiting the number of pets per building site.

A typographical error in the complaint, also the fact that Police Captain William Ellis, who is the chief witness for the city, is leaving for FBI academy in Washington, D.C., were the grounds on which Mr. Burleigh dismissed the original action. He brought in a new complaint, however, and trial on this action was set for September 29 in Monterey Municipal Court.

About Tourists, Visitors and the Locals—

TOURISTS . . . Tourists are people in cameras, aloha shirts and/or muu-muus. They came to look at us out of a sense of duty, as a part of seeing America first, and see us primarily as quaint pages in their scrapbooks or as frames on their movie screens. They prefer neon lights, sidewalks, and street addresses. They talk about returning on future vacations, but you wouldn't want to live in that kooky town! They can't find our office.

VISITORS . . . Visitors are non-residents who come to see us frequently because they have a continuing love affair with our village and our ocean. They actually walk on our beaches, buy things in our shops, and only the sheer impracticality of uprooting themselves from their present business elsewhere prevents them from becoming locals. They always stop to see us when they are here.

LOCALS . . . Locals are people who, through the kind permission of the Gods, live in Carmel permanently. They walk on the beaches when the tourists are gone and the sun isn't. They shop when the shops aren't crowded, and they know where to find a parking place. They have lived all over the world and have chosen Carmel for their permanent way of life. They use their library cards, play instruments, paint pictures or make things, or appreciate those who do. They have all the virtues—are kind, good, sweet and pure. If your dog gets lost, you hope he is found by a local.

LIKE TO BECOME A LOCAL? We'd be happy to interview you and, if you qualify, would consider it a privilege to help you find a home or business here. Finding our office is the first test.

CAPTAIN'S PARADISE ON CARMEL POINT

You, too, can relax like a retired sea captain in this compact two-bedroom home with a view of the mountains and lagoon. It's shipshape, yet breathes the charm one associates with the Point. Large chalkrock patio. $34,500.

ESTATE SALES

We have listed two small homes close in which are being sold by heirs to settle estates. Both have Carmel redwood charm. One at $23,500 has a cathedral-style ceiling living room with high studio window, cheerful kitchen, bedroom and bath on the main floor and bedroom or studio reached by stairs and balcony from the living room—and we have an all clear termite report. The other at $27,000 has a sun porch off the living room with a peek at the ocean, a bedroom and bath on the main floor and a separate guest room and bath with outside entrance. Both homes are vacant—call us to see anytime.

Annexation Step Gains Approval

eration and weight."

Sergeant Gilmour told the commission that opponents to annexation "want the niceties of urban living without paying for them." He stressed the need for more adequate fire and police protection in Mission Fields than now supplied by the county. Requests for these additional services, already made to the board of supervisors, meant property owners elsewhere in the county would have to help pay for the needs of areas contiguous to Carmel, he said.

Mr. Lloyd pointed out that two outstanding needs of the Mission Tract were police and fire protection. That the county had been asked to provide "some $60,000 additional structural fire protection" for the areas under discussion was proof of a need, he said. That the Suburban Area Council is proposing formation of a special district for fire protection was another proof of structural fire protection need, he added.

Discussing the police needs of the Mission Tract, Mr. Lloyd indicated that no traffic control exists on streets in this area which are heavily traveled with "an awful lot of speeding." The near proximity of the state park at the Carmel River lagoon causes the public and "transient-type" persons to use the Mission Tract roads. Looking to the future, he emphasized, more police protection, also traffic control which is not provided by the county sheriff's office, will become necessary.

Police and fire districts for Mission Tract needs will be "more expensive and cumbersome" than annexing to Carmel, he prophesied, and added that orderly service from a centralized area was desirable.

Discussing the socio-economic aspects of the Mission Tract and Carmel, Mr. Lloyd gave instances to prove "there is no line drawn between the people inside and outside the city." He concluded by referring to the Carmel Planning Commission's detailed study of the areas to be annexed in relation to Carmel which said no problems with other governmental agencies existed; annexation would not adversely effect the areas; the areas presented no problem to Carmel.

Finally, Mr. Lloyd quoted a letter from Medill Bair, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, which said annexation of the Mission Tract would be beneficial to River school fire and police protection. He also quoted the city council's ad hoc committee report which states opponents to annexation appeared unwilling to inquire into facts of the matter.

Mr. Brown told the commission that requests for a county speed check on Rio Road, where two young people had been killed, elicited the fact that if such a check were made, the speed limit would be increased. Requests for stop signs were similarly fruitless. Reflectors, placed by the county, were knocked down two days later.

"We are in trouble in Mission Fields. We need help. Carmel has

HUMBLE HEARING RESET

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors has reset the public hearing on the request of Humble Oil Company for a special permit to build and operate an oil refinery at Moss Landing for September 2 at 10 a.m. in the county courthouse in Salinas.

promised us help—radar control police cars," Mr. Brown declared and pointed out little children walk to school along Rio Road where houses, fences and hedges have been damaged by speeding cars.

"Firewise, we are in a bad way, too," he stated. The present fire insurance rate for Mission Fields is a "phony" classification, he continued. Annexation would mean installation of additional fire plugs and a two-class reduction in insurance rates for an area which is evidencing growing fire hazards.

"An added $5 or $6 a month is worth while to get the fire protection Carmel offers," he concluded.

For annexation opponents, Mr. Smith protested the "piecemeal" annexation under consideration. He said annexation should take in all subdivisions near Carmel. Mr. Daly stressed satisfaction with county services in the Mission Tract. Annexation would impede the orderly development of the county, he maintained.

Mr. Coates stated that the Suburban Area Council had asked the board of supervisors for service areas for "the very reason that we want to be independent of any local government." He was sure county service areas would be cheaper than paying for Carmel services. Mr. Etienne maintained River Inn Developers were satisfied with county services and wished to be excluded from annexation.

The local agencies formation commissioners were informed by the county staff that owners of 60 percent of the land area in the Walker Tract and Mission Fields oppose annexation; 80 percent in the Mission Tract.

Exclusion from annexation was requested by 55 percent of the Mission Fields and Walker Tract property owners, including the Carmel Sanitary District. In the Mission Tract, 45 percent of the landowners wished to be excluded.

The public hearing, second of two, was held in the county courthouse in Salinas.

HIGH SCHOOL CAFETERIA CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for the vending machine operation at the Carmel High School was awarded today to Canteen, 1785 Rogers Avenue, San Jose, on the basis of the company's proposal. Carmel Unified School District employees will prepare and handle the food to be served from the leased vending machines.

Robin Sung

Funeral services for Robin Sung, who died Monday morning in a local hospital after an extended illness, were held yesterday in the Mission Mortuary, Monterey, with the Reverend Lawrence K. Whitfield of the Church of the Wayfarer officiating. With his wife, Dorothy Chu-Cheng Sung, he made his home in South Carmel Hills for the past seven years.

Mr. Sung, an instructor in the Mandarin department of the Defense Language Institute, was born in Hangkow, China, December 25, 1919. He received his bachelor's degree from Szechuan Provincial College of Education in Chungking, China, in 1943, and studied at the University of Georgia and the University of California before joining the DLI faculty 12 years ago.

In 1947, Mr. Sung attended the World Conference of Christian Youth in Norway as a delegate for the Republic of China.

In addition to his wife, he leaves a daughter and a son, Elizabeth and Frank Sung of Carmel; two brothers, Paul Sung of Pebble Beach and Chun-Hua Sung of Taiwan; and three sisters, Miss Susanna Sung of San Jose, Ching-Hua Sun Wang and T-Hua Sung Lu, both of Taiwan.

Inurnment took place in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

suggestion was "a matter of public relations."

Subsequently, the arts commission asked the city council for authority to review all business district construction plans before a building permit is issued by the planning commission. This request has been referred to a council committee for study and report in September.

Light 4 cities San Francisco's size? A single PG&E plant will soon be powerful enough to do it!

Two new generating units, each more than twice as large as any now on the PG&E system, will soon bring the total generating capacity of Moss Landing Power Plant to over 2 million kilowatts.

That's slightly more than the capacity of all 71 plants in the company's system in 1948.

Though the amount of PG&E energy used in California is constantly going up, the unit cost is going down. Today a typical residential customer pays less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity.

Which makes PG&E service a bigger bargain than ever.
